About Patti Stevens

Patti Stevens MSc. founded the Coaching Supervision Consultancy Limited in 2004 to meet the Professional Supervision requirements of practitioners working within coaching, leadership, consultancy, and people development. Patti also co-founded the Association for Professional Executive Coaching & Supervision (APECS).

She works with many and varied independent and corporate clients across all levels of organisational structure having gained extensive business, coaching, counselling, & supervision experience both in the private & public sector spanning over three decades.

For the past sixteen years, Patti has also been a visiting coaching supervisor on the MA in Coaching & Mentoring Practice at Oxford Brookes University which she helped to develop & design. She was part of the programme development team for the first Professional Doctorate in Coaching & Mentoring (DCM) and the Postgraduate Certificate in Supervision for Coaching & Mentoring.

She is an Adjunct Faculty Member at Henley Business School (University of Reading) where over a period of years she has been involved in developing & supervising Henley Coaching Supervisors.

Through the professional supervision relationship, Patti's quality assures coaching provision by monitoring, evaluating, and developing coaches, leaders, consultants and those involved in people development work to integrate and sustain both best practice and performance delivery together with continuing personal and professional development (CPPD). To this end, Patti has evolved and developed the unique Coaching Signatures Profile™ (www.supervision.uk.com) which she uses in her own practice whilst also developing and accrediting other supervisors to use the tool.
