About the Facilitators

Hannah Datema

Bridget Wilkins

Elaine Patterson

Karyn Prentice

Hannah Datema is the Coaching and Mentoring Development Manager at Guy's and St Thomas'. Bridget Wilkins is an experienced coach and keen coaching educator, who works both internally as a volunteer coach in the GSTT scheme and independently with coachees in senior roles in a variety of other NHS and related organisations. Hannah and Bridget both participated in the coaching supervision programme and are passionate about sharing, learning, and best practice.

Hannah and Bridget are joined by Elaine Patterson and Karyn Prentice from PattersonPrenticeDesigns, a creative partnership who introduced peer coaching supervision into Guys. Elaine and Karyn are internationally accredited Executive Coaches, Coaching Supervisors, OD Specialists and Writers, and are also Senior Faculty at the Coaching Supervision Academy International Centre for Reflective Practice.

Event Details

Join the coaching team at Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust as they discuss their innovative and exciting internal coaching supervision programme! The Trust operates the largest internal coaching and mentoring service within the NHS, and is a pioneer for internal coaching supervision in partnership with PattersonPrenticeDesigns. Their work has been featured in the media and has also shortlisted for national awards.

Learn about the background to the coaching supervision programme and context in which it operates, how it works and some key lessons learned.

The session will be informative, interactive and full of tips and transferable advice for organisations looking to implement a similar programme. Bring curiosity and questions!

About Elaine Patterson

I am an international Master Coach, Accredited Coach Supervisor, and Writer. I am also Director: Creative Development at the Coaching Supervision Academy | International Centre for Reflective Practice.

My passion is to bring the humanizing, energizing, and creative powers of reflection to leaders, people professionals, and development practitioners everywhere for courageous, compassionate, and ethical practice. I take my inspiration from my love of the arts, history, mediation, writing, poetry, and Nordic walking. I am now half way through writing my book called "'Reflect to Create!' - Reflection, Reflective Practice and Supervision for Creative Leadership and Professional Practice'.

About Karyn Prentice

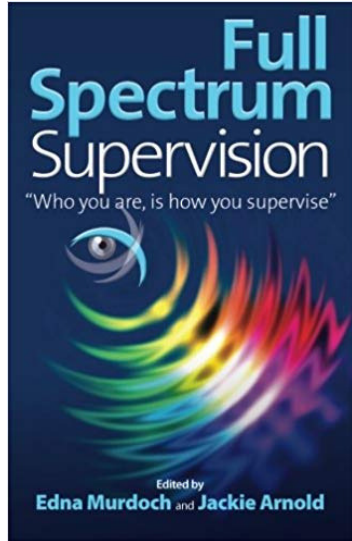

I am Assistant Director for Training, Coaching Supervision Academy. I'm also an accredited Coach with Association for Coaching, a member of ICF, and an Accredited Coach Supervisor with CSA since 2008. I am in the frontline teaching team at CSA co-facilitating in London, Seattle, and France, and works bilingually.

I'm one of the authors of 'Full Spectrum Supervision' published September 2013. I am a UKCP accredited transpersonal psychotherapist and mindfulness teacher. I'm particularly drawn to Mother Nature as an unceasing source of inspiration and teacher in my life and practice. I am now half way through writing my book called "How Does Your Garden Grow?" to help others share my passions.
