About Nicoleta Gheorghe

I am a psychologist, psychotherapist, certified in transactional analysis, and PTSTA-P (provisional teaching and supervising transactional analyst - psychotherapy). I have an independent private practice of psychotherapy, supervision, and training in Bucharest, Romania. Before that, I was a mathematics teacher for 15 years and then a trainer in a multinational company for five years.

Together with my colleague Diana Deaconu, I wrote and published an article in Transactional Analysis Journal (TAJ): "When the Outside Strikes a Chord Inside: The Role of Identity in Taking Social Responsibility".
